Webcast: Faith and Recovery:
The Healing Role of Faith-Based Organizations
Premieres Wednesday, June 7, 2006

<http://www.recoverymonth.gov/2006/multimedia/w.aspx?ID=478>

Those who lean on their faith in difficult times may seek help for their addiction from clergy and faith-based organizations, but what help will they find?

Join host Ivette Torres, Associate Director for Consumer Affairs, Center for Substance Abuse Treatment (CSAT), Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), and a panel of experts in this important and timely Webcast as they explore the spectrum of services and interventions offered by faith-based organizations and discuss their unique role in helping individuals walk the Road to Recovery.

Panelists include:

- Tom Johnson, Ph.D., Professor of Psychology, Indiana State University
- Margie Smith, Pastoral Counselor, Virginia Institute of Pastoral Care
- Rev. Jo Campe, Pastor, Central Park United Methodist
- Dr. Marcus McKinney, Director of Pastoral Counseling and Community Outreach, Saint Francis Hospital and Medical Center.

This Webcast also contains personal stories about people in recovery and interviews from treatment providers and others in the field who help make recovery possible.
